DAILY CHALLENGE

"Life if well lived, is long enough" Seneca

WELCOME TO THE CHALLENGE

EVERYONE get's the same 24 hours, but the truth is not everyone is using their time in the same way!

Some people are making self care a priority, and saying NO more than they say yes!

Investing their time in activities that make them happy, with people that inspire and empower them.

They don't have more time than you do, they're simply maximising what they have differently!

How you spend your time is your choice, as long as you understand the results you're getting/not getting are the direct result of what you're doing/not doing.

:-) If you like the results awesome keep doing what you're doing!!

:-(If you don't like the results, then maybe it's time to make some changes.

Start changing your life 8-minutes a day!

THE 8-MIN DAILY CHALLENGE - GETTING STARTED

1. Pick one activity that you will do every day for 8-minutes.

You'll find a short overview about each activity type and the major benefits in the challenge library area (some activities also come with videos to guide you).

2. Track your progress (on page 4 of the workbook).
